

The Lost Colony, 1409 National Park Drive, Manteo, NC 27954 www.thelostcolony.org

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Media Contact:

John Buford (252) 473-2127 x 225
john@thelostcolony.org

Lost Colony Casts Talent at Catawba

--College students in Salisbury, NC audition for long-running drama --

(Manteo, N.C., March 5, 2008) – The annual search for talent take's The Lost Colony's production staff across the state and beyond. At a recent visit to Salisbury, NC, The Lost Colony auditioned Catawba College's theatre students. Among them, costumer Meggie Bumgarner (right), was delighted to showcase her portfolio for Robert Richmond, the drama's 71st Season Director (left), and Carl V. Curnutte III (center), The Lost Colony's Executive Director / Producer. Several Lost Colony alums from Catawba also auditioned for the drama. Next stop on the audition circuit is Chattanooga, TN—followed by Chapel Hill, NC. In total, approximately 4,000 actors and technicians will be seen at four different audition locations. By early May, the 2008 Lost Colony Company will arrive on Roanoke Island to begin rehearsals for Opening Night on May 30. Tickets for the anticipated opening-night unveiling of the drama's new costumes are selling quickly. The Lost Colony box office encourages patrons and members to reserve their seats in advance by calling the business office at 252-473-2127 ext. 223 or by visiting www.thelostcolony.org.

###